OBJECT OF THE GAME

1. STAR CHESS is a game of fun and strategy for two players.
2. STAR CHESS is based on the well-known game of chess but your chessmen are space ships engaged in Galactic Warfare.
3. Move your spaceships similar to those moving chessmen in chess.
4. Instead of capturing pieces in chess, you can weaken or even destroy your opponent's spaceships by firing missiles at them.
5. To win the game you have to destroy or capture your opponent's "COMMANDER" (KING).
6. Each spaceship is equipped with a certain number of missiles (from 2 to 7) and a certain number of shields (from 2 to 7). The missiles are used to attack and the shields will protect the spaceship from attackers.

1. The two squares occupied by the COMMANDER (KING) and DESTROYER (QUEEN) of each player is called the "STAR BASE".
2. Your STAR BASE serves as an armory for any of your spaceships. Once your Spaceship has been moved into the STAR BASE the Spaceship will be replenished by one missile for every turn you move in. The Spaceship can be replenished with missiles with its max. capacity (from 2 to 7 missiles depending on the Spaceships).
3. The shields of a Spaceship cannot be replenished.
4. The STAR BASE will not protect your Spaceships being attacked by enemy Spaceships.

7. If you miss your target, the missile will explode on one of the 8 squares surrounding your target Spaceship and will damage or destroy any Spaceship occupying that square - even your own.
8. When you hit your target, it doesn't mean the target will be destroyed. (At least one defence shield is wiped out when hit.) 50% of the time you will wipe out 2 defence shields, less than 1% chance you will destroy a Spaceship with 7 shields (KING or QUEEN) at first hit.
9. After the firing has ceased, an explosion will be shown on the screen. One explosion shows you have weakened your target. Two explosions means you have destroyed it. The Spaceship will disappear from the screen after it has been destroyed.
10. If all the missiles from four Spaceship which you selected for the attack have been used up, then you will automatically miss a turn to move.
